

Email & Internet Security

Are you frustrated about the amount of spam and uncontrolled emails you get?

Do you open your mailbox in the morning only to discover that it is filled with junk e-mail? Not only is this an enormous waste of time, your company's reputation and credibility could be at risk from uncontrolled emails. Employers are liable under UK law for what their employees do in the course of their work, particularly when this places your company in a position of liability. AVI in partnership with Sophos and GFI software can provide you with an e-mail gateway to protect your mail system and network.

An Email Gateway analyses and filters all incoming and outgoing emails to:

- Check content
- Restrict attachments
- Block 'spamming' and chain letters
- Provide Email encryption
- Automatically add disclaimers
- Scan for viruses
- Filter offensive and pornographic emails

We will help you develop an Email Gateway to secure you mail system.
