

REMOTE MONITORING

Ever run out of disk space, had failed backups for several days, had out of date virus software and said 'I wish I knew about this earlier' NOW YOU CAN!

AVI Systems recognises that although many companies take a reactive view to their IT solutions and problems, most companies would like a solution so certain problems can be dealt with before they become visible. AVI has put together a remote monitoring package where potential issues can be checked on a daily basis. When this package is combined with our helpdesk facility, it means that when problems occur fault calls will be automatically raised. This can be a very powerful package creating less stress for your staff by reducing IT issues and the time it takes to fix them.

The remote monitoring package monitors:

- E-mail function
- Hard disk space
- Status of anti-virus software
- Backups
- And much more.
